A TRAMCAR on King street this morning ran foul of a wagon, breaking the pole and dishing a wheel. It is stated that the car driver exulted over the exploit, reminding the wa-gon driver that he had threatened to fix him." It is further stated that the same car a little farther on narrowly missed doing the same thing to another wagon, when the car driver turned to the wagoner and told him he would catch him yet, to look behind at what the other fellow had got. If the account is correct the car driver's conduct is a matter for discipline by his employers,

TRIAL OF PAIKULI.

The Representative Elect of Kollan District Convicted of Making Improper Election Returns

The long-looked for case of Rex vs. Paikuli attracted a throng of curious spectators to the Police Court room this morning. It will be remembered that J. L. Kaulukou and J. N. Paikuli were opposing candidates at the last election. Paikuli was the victor by two majority. Subsequently Paikuli was arrested for failure to make sworn returns as required by law. Owing to inability of his counsel to be present till now the case was postponed till to-day. Messrs, Kinney and Kaulukou conducted the prosecution, while Messrs. Davidson, Rosa and Kane were retained for the defense.

The prisoner was first tried upon the charge of failure to make proper return of election expenses as required by law. The following witnesses were sworn and examined on behalf of the prosecution:

Asa Kaulia-Was one of the Inspectors of Election at Kancohe on Feb. 5. Have at no time since election received a statement of Paikuli's expenses. Signed a certificate of his election.

Jas. Olds-Testimony substantially the same. J. A. Hassinger-Am Chief Clerk of the Interior Department. (Producing document.) Defendant gave me this. Brought in three envelopes; one contained this document; another, the certificate of election; and the third was addressed to defendant himself. This was returned to him. This document was opened in presence of defendant. This as I remember is a copy of the original document. Cannot account for its being in my possession. (Witness was here temporarily excused to obtain original document.)

M. Rose - Was chairman of Board of Inspectors at Koolan for election Feb. 5. Received statement of Paikuli's election expenses Feb. 15, not from him directly but from my wife. Was in the field when it was handed to me. It was unenclosed. Sent it to Minister of the Interior Monday 17th. Noticed that statement was not sworn to.

Cross-examined-Live about ten miles from here. Document was handed to me by my wife who said

Wm. Henry gave it to her. Wm. Henry-I delivered document to Mrs. Rose. Think it was on Saturday subsequent to election. Received it from Kailaa with request to deliver to one of the election inspectors. (Inspecting document.)

This resembles the paper. Cross-examined—Was wrapped in a newspaper addressed to three different parties. Kailaa-Remember giving a document to Deputy Sheriff some time after election. Did not give it to Henry. Don't know the deputy sheriff. He is a half-white. Gave it to him Saturday afternoon. Mr. Henry and others were present when I gave it to him. Paikuli gave it to my wife with a message to deliver it. Paikuli had gone before I returned. Recognize document in Paikuli's handwriting. A newspaper was tied loosely about it with a string. It was addressed in Paikuli's handwriting but did not no-tice to whom. Cannot positively identify this as paper.

R. Makahalupa-Mr. Rose handed me document to deliver to Interior Department. Delivered it to Minister Thurston in person. Was present when Kailaa brought it to Kaneche. He brought it on Saturday saying he had something from Paikuli. Directed him to hand it to deputy sheriff. J. A. Hassinger (returning)-Am unable to produce original of this document as before intended. Am sure Paikuli gave me three envelopes. Wish to correct testimony. Received a letter of date May 17th, mentioning enclosure of election ex-penses of Paikuli and Kaulukou. My impression of two copies of document is very strong but the document before the Court is the only one in the possession of the Interior Department. Can find no other. Document is endorsed in hand of Jno. II. Brown, temperarily acting as clerk.

Mr. Davidson-of counsel for defense-Now moves the dismissal of the case on the grounds of no case by prosecution. Mr. Hassinger's testimony is so full of puzzles and uncertainty that defendant is entitled to all the doubt which it sheds. (Reading from authorities and from the statutes). The authorities cited and the statutes just read do not say that the return might not be limit of time is purely directory and not mandatory in any sense of the word. In regard to that portion of the schedule entitled "miscellancous" it does not follow that because it is unitemized, it can or should be construed to imply bribery, unless direct testimony be introduced in support of it. Without the same direct proof of wrongful intent on the part of defendant, the mere fact of imply a violation of the law. The defendant was entitled to spend $50.

Mr. Kinney replying, directs attention to the fact that return is not sworn to. There is no other official report. It is premature to ask a dismissal of the case. No evidence has been adduced by defense to that this victim of a Wailuku offishow Paikuli made another report. cial's vendetta will not want friends Until that is proven we are entitled to see that he gets fair play in a law to regard this as the only document I court.

He returns $36.35 presumably on extant. This is a case for vindication of law and not for the endorsement of treaks of political parties. There is no suspicion of unfair intention on the part of the defendant. yet he has failed to comply with the law and is therefore subject to the penalties consequent upon its infringement. It is only asked that the lightest possible sentence may be imposed. Mr. Davidson contends that the returns can be made any time before the session of the Legislature. He objects to Paikuli being required to defend himself where there is no accusation. It is the duty of the prosecution to make an allegation of guilt and not for defense to testify on an imaginary implication.

Motion overruled. The Court directs the prisoner to stand up and addresses him as follows:

There is no evidence of bad faith, but there has been a violation of a law which cries for enforcement. To my mind the only question at issue is whether the defendant has made a sworn statement. That he has furnished a statement admits of no doubt. It is now before the Court but it is not sworn to. Where facts are clear and doubts exist as to construction of law my duty is to find technical guilt until points are adjudicated by the Supreme Court. I regret that these points cannot at once be passed upon by the Supreme Court. I am not responsible for the policy of the Government in bringing this case. I shall impose a merely nominal penalty because in the violation of law no criminal intent has been shown. This nominal penalty will answer the requirements of leniency. And if not severe enough may be rectified by the Appellate Court. I therefore impose five minutes' imprisonment at hard labor. Costs $3.75.

After the Sheriff had secured order and a cessation of merriment on the part of the audience, the defense gave notice of appeal.

This afternoon the same defendant is being tried on a second charge, that of improper expenditure as shown by his unsworn state-

WAILUKU POLITICAL MORALS.

Epror Bulletin :- A correspondent in yesterday's Advertiser insinuates "according to what is said" (a poor phrase for positive assertion) that the National Reform party used "free rum or election gin" with which to intoxicate people. "It was said so when the Reform party held the mass meeting in Wailuku Skating Rink, and a lot of drunken people tried to break up the meeting, and it has been said after-

Why did not the Advertiser get someone who was present at that meeting to make an assertion, instead of accepting the hearsay of some manager's hireling at third hand of what "has been said afterwards." Is that sort of evidence good enough for any honest minded

I here state the actual facts about the meeting referred to. Notice was sent to the plantations around Wailuku that Mr. W. O. Smith, with the Portuguese interpreter in tow, would on a certain night hold forth at the Wailuku Skating Rink, and managers were to get the voting material of the plantations into the rink to be convinced by the dulcet tones of Smith and Vivas. The serfs were forced to the meeting but objected -the natives first, then the Portuguese-to the arguments of the special pleaders, and, after some lively evidences of contra opinions, left the hall to the sole occupation of Smith and Vivas and the few lunas who were trying to whip in the audience. Not a Hawaiian or Portuguese was to be seen in the rink half an hour after the meeting commenced.

Mr. Smith no doubt expected a different reception, as, in addition to plantation influence, a special agent from an influential firm was sent ahead, to influence certain tenants and lessees. Wailuku did not vote entirely by plantation orders, and now comes the manager's power to get even with voters; and we see, all over the district, political vengeance, in the form of discharging, is being taken on lunas, laborers, Custom house guards, etc. Every one suspected of National Reform tendencies is to feel the power of the autocratic fist.

A day is near at hand in which it will be in order to have a commission to enquire into the working of the election law in certain districts, made outside of the ten days. The and whether the existence of corrupt practices on the part of serfholders should not be provided for in a more effective manner than the present. In the meantime, the one solitary National Reformer who was arrested on the information of the Inspector of Elections (who is also bookkeeper of Wailuku plantation). is likely to be honored by the company of certain active Maui Reformers, of whose acts and identity I friends working earnestly to secure | will be sitent, lest I should follow his election does not constitute or the improper course of the Advertiser scribe in commenting on a case that is pending trial.

The arrested man is a wellknown bookkeeper, whose salary was seldom less than double that of the Noble qualification, and on arrival in Honofulu he was promptly bailed out by the Mechanics' Union who will see also, when the time comes, Civis.

PAPER BOATS.

New Shells for the Harvard and Vale Crews.

It has just got out that Waters of Troy, the famous maker of paper boats for college crews, has had a representative here measuring a fast boat from which to build new shells for both the Harvard and Yale crews this year. The mission of the boat builder was to get the lines of the eight-oared cedar shell owned by President Edward P. Barry of the New England Amateur Rowing Association, and said to be the fastest eight-oared racing shell ever seen in America.

It is the boat which was built at cost of $1200 by a famous English boat-maker for the Harvard 'Varsity crew of 1887, and was purchased last year by Mr. Barry, so that it could be rowed by the City Point eight-oared crew at Worcester. Harvard's only reason for selling it was because it was too light for a crew with an average weight of over 160 pounds if rowed in as rough water as that generally had at New Lon-

In a trial on the Charles river, under a well-known professional coach, the Harvard 'Varsity crew of 87 found the boat to be about ten seconds faster in each mile than any boat then in possession of the Harvard Boat Club, and since that time no boat has been found its equal for speed.

To-day the gentleman representing Waters spent three hours on the dimensions of the boat, and it is quite likely that when he returns to Troy a model will be east for making a paper boat for both Harvard and Yale this year. A new model for an eight-oared paper shell costs about $1000, but the paper boat is afterward turned out for a great deal less cost and sold for about $400.—Boston Corr. New York Times.

THE EDITOR'S APPEAL.

An editor who had been pounding away at his delinquent subscribers for some time, finally brought them to their sense of duty with the following poetical parody:

"Lives of poor men oft remind us honest toil don't stand a chance; more we work we leave behind us bigger patches on our pants. On our pants once new and glossy nov are patches of different hue; all because subscribers linger and won't pay up what is due. Then let all be up and doing; send in your mite be it so small, or when the snows of winter strike us we shall have no pants at all." -- Bozeman Appeal.
